IN A TROY STATE OF MIND

IN A TROY STATE OF MIND...

In a Troy State of Mind was not just a statement or theme. It was a feeling that everyone associated with TSU possessed. From the Chancellor to the student, it was the excitement of watching TSU grow. It was the reward of helping others excel academically and the pride of just being a part of Troy State University.

STUDENT LIFE

There is 'Magic in the Air' for Homecoming.

Queen, is joined by Dr. Jack Hawkins Jr., Eddie Billings and Jennifer Kojima.

What's New

There was change on every corner at Troy State University. Because of a growing number of students and faculty members, the university had to notice changes. Enrollment at TSU reached 5,000 and this brought about exciting plans for the student population. Cowart Hall was renovated and reopened as housing for female students. To accommodate the fitness and recreational needs of the students a new pool, weight room, gym and sand volleyball courts were added to the north end of campus. So that the Troy State University police could handle growing interest in the campus and host payment of traffic fines, the Welcome Center replaced the old Troy Bank and Trust, complete with a business office and spirit shop.

The Greek system grew as well, when the Farmhouse emerged on the scene. To honor those Greeks who excelled scholastically, the Order of Omega was chartered. Since the Greeks systems was growing so rapidly, a new Greek Judiciary Board was established.

Probably, the most sweeping change at TSU was the move to Division I. With this change came the new tailgating terrace, new JV cheerleaders and a spectacular scoreboard with animated graphics. This year was exciting because no one knew what was coming.

T-Roy is excited about the move into Division I and the new scoreboard.

OMECOMING

"There's Magic in the Air" was the theme for Homecoming '93. The week was definitely an exciting one, from Greek skits and yard displays to tailgating and the pep rally, Troy State's spirit was immeasurable.

Skit night was among the activities most enjoyed: AΓΔ won first place with ΠΚΦ and ΦΜ following close behind.

Homecoming '93 will be remembered for the fun times spent with friends and the MAGIC that was definitely in the AIR!

AΓΔ places first in skit night during the Homecoming week.

Distinguished

Troy State alumni became part of the magic in homecoming. The three Distinguished Alumni were Dr. Lacey Powell, Ken Cox and Frank Allen Tucker, Jr. Honorary Alumnus was Frank Williams.

Dr. Powell taught music at the University of South Alabama.

Ken Cox was the owner and founder of Cox and Associates Insurance Agency, owner and chairman of the board of B&D Plastics and owner of Troy Ford and Motor Co.

Frank Allen Tucker was the owner of Southern Health Care Associated, Inc.

The Honorary Alumnus Frank Williams attended and played football for Troy in 1947 and 1948.

During halftime, the alumni band and cheerleaders were able to participate in the show and display their TSU spirit once again.

R eigning

After days of anticipation, Camie Trail was named Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming attendants were Anne Bailey, Melody Cobb, Carlene Dorris and Maria Race.

Miss Trail was sponsored by Sigma Pi Fraternity. She was a member of Phi Mu Sorority.

Her positive attitude and outlook on life helped her represent TSU effectively throughout the year.

M onday

The typical student at Troy State made a schedule of events for the week. With so many events and activities, no one could complete all of them in one day. Specific days were set for events. Everyone knew that Wednesday was movie night and Thursday traditionally was party night. Students had to remember to be ready for those unexpected events which TSU was known for throwing at us. Pop tests and those dreaded projects added adjustments to our weekly plan. All of this scheduling and time management taught students efficiency. Growing up was hard to do, but when things are set, it makes life a lot easier.

Students get back into swing of things after a hectic weekend.

W ild & Wacky

Since Troy State was considered a suitcase college, students had to conjure up new and exciting ideas for the weekends. Most students went home, but for others who chose to stay in Troy, looking for fun was an adventure. Fraternity row was known for its zany weekend band parties and the local Troy pubs gave students a chance to get down. So those students who did not want to go completely wild, studying and hanging out in the dorms proved to be profitable. Life at Troy usually lasted from Monday to Thursday but for those who chose to stay here, it definitely proved to make for an interesting weekend.

Going off to college can be a drastic change. One of the most dreadful, is having to live on campus. The adjustment of living with a total stranger and the realization that a warm, private shower is a memory of days gone by, one some of the things living on campus brought. Mom and Dad were now farther away than the room next door and those strict RA's had a tight reign on everyone. New rules were thrown at campus residents. Mom and Dad never had visitation times, quiet hours or meal tickets. Even though living on campus had its horrors, the times with new friends, the excitement of late night study parties, and all of the mischief made living on campus an experience to be treasured for a lifetime.

Living off campus can be a dream or a nightmare. Freedom was the key word; no RA's, no Saga food, and no community shower. These student appeared to live in the lap of luxury, NOT. Each morning they had to fight traffic and go on a never ending journey for a parking space. Then when they finally made it to class, they realized that they had forgotten to take food out for supper.

Commuter students made up half of the TSU population. These students could be found everywhere, in the Grill, in Adams Center lobby and in the Quad. The off campus students never left school because they would lose their precious parking spaces. They studied and lounged around campus till all their classes were over. Life for off-campus students may have seemed easy but look again and remember they still have to fight traffic to get home.

Pumping

A craze swept across TSU in 1994. Getting fit was on everyone's mind. Staying in shape was a major theme for students. The administration recognized this and built a recreation center and weight room for students. Getting that rock hard body was a must. Abs of Steel and Cindi Crawford's aerobic workouts were popular with both guys and girls. Everyone was striving for that "six pack" stomach. Anytime during the day, students walked, jogged or pumped iron. It made today's young adults healthier and happier. For those people who haven't grabbed on and started the path to a better body, Ru-Paul said, "You better work!"

Fitness has become so popular that waiting in line is expected.

I n the news

This year was definitely unforgettable. It was filled with natural disasters, divorces, deaths and scandals.

Lorena Bobbitt claimed marital sexual assault by John Bobbitt led her to go below the belt for revenge. Heidi Fliess was accused of providing prostitutes to internationally known entertainers.

Micheel Jordan ends his basketball career after winning three consecutive NBA titles.

Burt Reynolds and Loni Anderson surprisingly ended their marriage while Julia Roberts and Lyle Lovett began theirs.

People that will be missed are River Phoenix, Audrey Hepburn, Davey Allison, Bill Bixby, Vincent Price, Frank Zappa, Brandon Lee, Reggie Lewis and John Candy.

At 4:31 a.m. Monday, Jan. 17, a 40 second Earthquake registering 6.6 on the Richter Scale awoke residents of Southern California. It left 55 people dead, brought down major freeways and destroyed or damaged thousands of homes. The quake caused an estimated $30 billion in damage.

In the late spring and early summer, the Midwest suffered from floods. Thousands of homes and farms were destroyed, fields were swamped and towns were submerged. The storm caused billions of dollars in damage. President Bill Clinton signed a $5.7 million aid package to help the victims.

In September, the Bosnia parliament rejected an international peace plan for the devastated republic. The move postponed a settlement that would have ended the 18-month-old war that has partitioned the country into three ethnic states for Croats, Muslims and Serbs. The United Nations has sent a peace-keeping force to the former Yugoslavia to help keep peace among the three warring factions. Thousands of people have been killed in the conflict and more than a million have been left homeless.

Nancy Kerrigan won the silver medal at the 1994 Winter Olympics even though she was injured. Before she had a chance to participate in the National Figure Skating Championships in January, Tonya Harding's former husband pleaded guilty to charges of arranging an assault on Kerrigan in Detroit.

Michael Jackson began his 'Dangerous' tour in August 1993 in Thailand. Shortly after he was accused of molesting a 13-year-old American boy. The case was settled out of court.

Movie of the Year

There was little surprise when Whitney Houston's single "I Will Always Love You" was named No. 1 single of the year. The single remained on top for 14 weeks, which earned it the title as longest running No. 1 single.

"The Bodyguard" was named album of the year.

Garth Brooks was named as the year's top performer in both singles and albums activity in pop and country.

Information for these pages was provided by Billboard Magazine (Dec. 25, 1993 and Jan. 8, 1994) and Premiere Magazine (April 1994).

From March 19-27, Troy State students headed to the beach.

There were 13 million college students in the country. About 5 million were expected to participate in the annual Spring Break tradition, stated Judith Waldrop, writer for American Demographics. Many college students traveled to the Sunshine State to bask in the sun and party. Daytona Beach was ranked No. 1. South Padre, Texas, and Panama City, Fla., were increasingly popular. Panama City ranked high among TSU students.

Those students that didn't go to the beach, spent their breaks at home relaxing or working to earn money for next quarter.

'Ma Rainey's Black Bottom' is a sold out performance and gets rave reviews from the media.

Music Everywhere

The "Music Man" was a festive, energetic musical that kept the audience humming along to well known songs such as "Seventy-Six Trombones."

The summer musical, written by Meredith Willson, was the first Troy State production to be sold out at the Davis Theatre in Montgomery.

The play was directed by Dr. Phil Kelley. Dr. John M. Long conducted the orchestra in what is considered his favorite musical.

The "Music Man" involved the entire Troy Community because children were involved in the musical.

Singin' the Blues

"Ma Rainey's Black Bottom" was set in a Chicago recording studio in 1927 and revolved around a fictitious recording session featuring Gertrude "Ma" Rainey and her band.

The Troy State University Department of Speech and Theatre put on a foot-stompin' performance that helped portray prejudice in our society.

Sheila Jackson won an Irene Ryan Award for her part as the "Mother of the Blues", Ma Rainey. Stephen Faulk also won for his role as Sylvester and Cynthia Baldessare as Dussie Mae.

"Ma Rainey's Black Bottom" won the Louise Garron Award for Excellence in costume design produced by Lori Hancock and Margaret Caterisano.

Romeo & Juliet

by William Shakespeare

The genius of William Shakespeare was brought to life on the Adams Center Theatre stage. Spring quarter, the Troy State University Department of Speech and Theatre presented the story of two star-crossed lovers, Romeo and Juliet.

The two young lovers battle family feuds and quarrels to follow their hearts. "Romeo and Juliet" was a story of love, lust, feuds, desires and foolish youthful fancies.

Mercutio (Patrick Green) embraces death at the hands of Tybalt (Bobby Dewrell).

Life's A Dance

The Boy's Next Door by Tom Griffin portrayed the life of four mentally challenged individuals living together in a group apartment.

The play centered on life at home, jobs, and problems with life and love--the things everyone faces.

This emotion arousing play was directed by Tom Smiley and produced with the crew of the Troy State University Department of Speech and Theatre.

Smiley said he and the cast really enjoyed doing this play. The cast got along very well and often sang together after warm-ups.

Anything for a Laugh

The Troy State University Musical Theatre production of "Funny Girl" brought the TSU campus back to the Roaring '20s.

The musical centered around the life of comedienne Fanny Brice. Fanny was discovered in 1910 by Florenz Ziegfield. Ziegfield was known for his ability to make or break a performer.

Ziegfield found a place for Fanny in his "Ziegfield's Follies." She became famous despite her personal struggles and relationships.

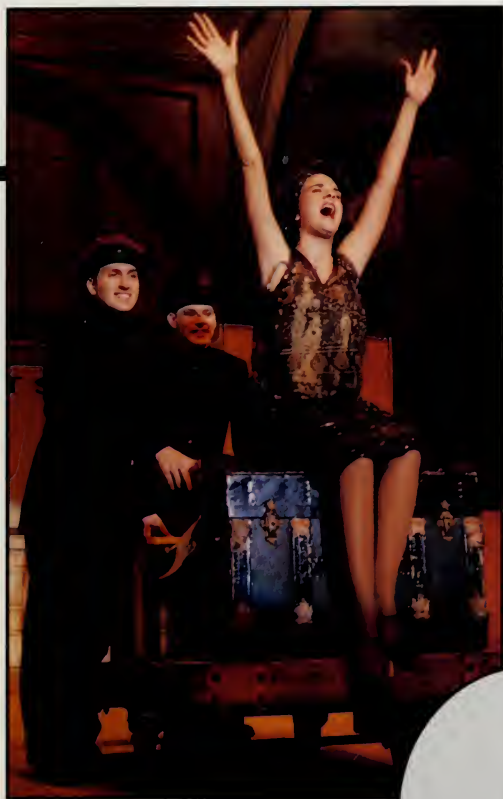

Fanny Brice would do anything for a laugh.

Concerts, Comedians

The Adams Center Union Board gave us a year of concerts, comedians and the Spring Fling.

Fall Quarter TSU students rocked with Lynard Skynard and we danced with Big Brother Kane and Bad Company. Winter Quarter we laughed with comedian, Gary Delena. Spring Quarter we danced and laughed at the Spring Fling.

Presenting Lynard Skynard.

Lead singer for Lynard Skynard, Ronnie Van Zant.

and Flings?

Students enjoy the first Spring Fling.

Mel and the Party Hats provide entertainment at Spring Fling.

The pie throwing contest is a hit.

Miss TSU

On and Off the Stage

The Miss Troy State University for 1994 was Leslie Holley.

Holley, a senior accounting major, also was the swimsuit winner. She performed a modern dance to "I Will Always Love You" for the talent competition.

The pageant was directed by Debra Kelley. Bob Howell was the emcee.

The Miss TSU pageant was sponsored by the PALLADIUM.

Non-Finalist Talent Winners

▲ LeAnn Bourne

◆ Jacqueline Jackson

▼ Amy Scruggs

Talent Award Winner: Heather Fulmer

Making new friends is part of the pageant experience.

It's hard work and everyone needs a break.

First Runner-Up: Julianne Boyd

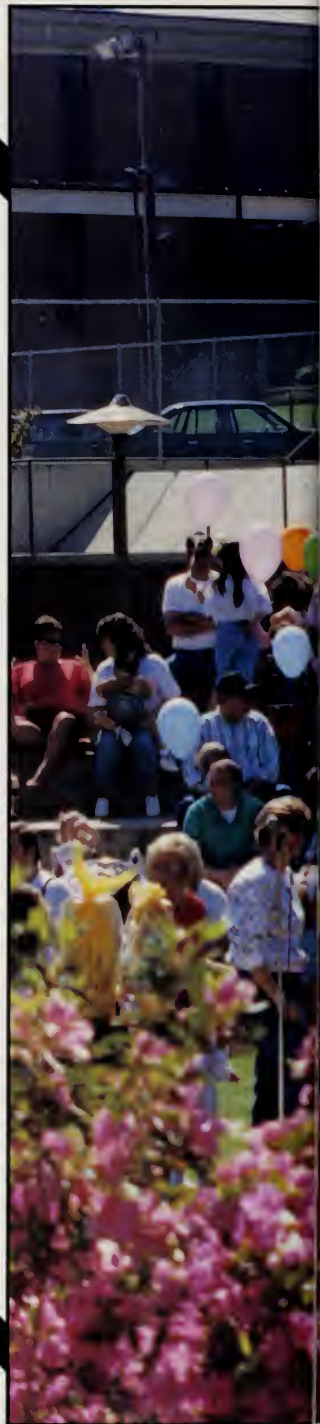

Top Ten: Carlene Dorris, Gwen Dye, Liberty Leak, Angel Capps, Kim Dean, Leslie Holley, Heather Fulmer, Julianne Boyd, Misty Bryant and Susan McGinn.

PEOPLE

Spring time brings children and similes to Troy's campus.

The annual SGA Easter egg hunt unites Troy State students, faculty, staff and members of the community.

*B*aptist Campus Ministries

*B*aptist Campus Ministries was a wonderful place for friendships, fellowship, and fun for students at TSU. It was a place to call home for many students and members of Alpha Omega. Led by Ken May, BCM offered weekly activities to promote Christian growth through fellowship. Activities such as skits, puppet shows, special music, and testimonies were shared with other churches in the community. Thursday night was a night of sharing as members divided up into groups for Bible Study. Every night was a special night at BCM. Many members gathered to play games, watch movies, sing songs and fellowship with some faithful friends.

Wesley Foundation

The faithful members of the Wesley Foundation have a new place to call 'home.'

'This year, Wesley Foundation offered its members a new place to relax and call "home". The Wesley Foundation became known for its community activities, which included Habitat for Humanities, scheduled babysitting and weekend retreats. These events helped Wesley members to expand their horizons by meeting new people and going on new adventures such as canoeing, concerts and trips to the beach. Through fellowship with other Christians, Wesley members grew together.'

Tropolitan Staff

David Lee and the "TROP" Staff.

The Tropolitan served as TSU's all-volunteer weekly newspaper. Since 1989, the Tropolitan and its staff have won 21 regional awards in the Society of Professional Journalists Mark of Excellence competition, competing against schools from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Tennessee and South Carolina. The awards have ranged in the categories of general excellence for non-dailies, sports reporting and photography, feature writing and photography, editorial writing and in-depth reporting. Four of the 21 awards were first place, and these entries competed nationally in the SPJ competition. In addition, two "TROP" editors have served on the national board of the Society of Professional Journalists since 1990.

The Student Government Association continued to try and represent the student body of TSU. It focused on student involvement in order to enhance Troy State. The SGA worked to give new life to what's important to students. This year, SGA worked to get new lights in lower Wallace Hall so students would feel safer at night. SGA continued supporting annual events such as Homecoming, the Easter Egg hunt, Designated Drivers Program, and Earth Day. This year SGA added a bumper sticker contest to help students have a hand in promoting the university. SGA has worked hard to give students a voice on campus.

Division I: Here We

C O M E

Troy State University entered a new era in 1993. The Trojans were a full-fledged member of NCAA Division I-AA. The decision to upgrade the numbers of grants in aid over the two-year compliance period paid off. After last year's 10-1 record, Troy was ranked No. 1 in polls at the end of the regular season and ranked in the "Top 20" of every poll released this year.

'The move from Division II to Division I was not a problem for Troy State University because we have always been Division I material.'

The Trojans did not wait to see how they measured up this year. Instead, they threw their weight around and dished out a Kilow of pounding. Even when the opposition was Polite and felt the Lovejoy on the field, they still had to face an offense of Kelvinized steel and Phil the Puccio. The TSU secondary, from the Ced Brooks of Troy to Israel Jones, spread like a Black curtain that promised to Duwan to others as it would.

Sherman marched the Trojan line to the beating of a different quarter-back, and the linebacker core found it has the skills to pay the bills - even when it Owes big.

The 1993 Trojan Football schedule was a welcome change from the past two years, when 14 of the last 22 games were played on the road. In 1993, the Troy State Trojans had nine games in the state of Alabama. The season opened with four straight road games. The Trojans were playoff contenders in their first year in the higher division. The momentum of last year's 10-1 record was maintained. The great expectations of TSU's maiden voyage in Division I-AA was realized.

In a Winning State of

MIND

On Nov. 27, 1993, the Troy State football players, staff and fans found themselves at home for the first round of Division I-AA playoffs against Stephen F. Austin. Troy State played well and defeated the Lumberjacks. On Dec. 4, 1993, TSU faced McNeese State University for the second round of playoff action in Lake Charles, La. After a fierce battle, the Trojans defeated the Cowboys 35-28. After a long journey to Huntington, W. Va., Troy faced Marshall University, defending national champions, on Dec. 11, 1993. After the Thundering Herd ended Troy's season with a 24-21 victory before 14,472 in Marshall Stadium and a cable television audience. Troy State's first season in Division I-AA concluded with a 12-1-1 record and a trip to the semi-finals, only the second team to ever advance that far in its inaugural year.

The Troy State University Trojans began their Division I basketball era on Nov. 27, 1993. The team finished second in the nation in its final year as a member of NCAA Division II, winning a school record 27 games against just five losses. The Trojans were reclassified to NCAA Division I and became new members of the East Coast Conference.

The Troy State University basketball team has been a high profile Division II team because of their great success running the frantic offense made famous by Paul Westhead when he coached Loyola Marymount. Since going to "The System" in 1989-90, Troy State's teams have posted a cumulative won-loss record of 94-25, have led the nation in regular season scoring each of the last three years, and established themselves as the kings of point production on a Saturday in January 1992, when they raced to a fantastic 258-141 win over DeVry Institute of Atlanta.

The Troy State Lady Trojans competed in the East Coast Conference their first year in Division I, and faced a challenging schedule including games with South Alabama, Tulane, Alabama State, Middle Tennessee and Alabama. The Lady Trojans had to overcome the fact that most of the teams they faced were new to them. Middle Tennessee and Alabama State were the only returnees off last year's schedule.

WIN

The Lady Trojans surprised many teams in their first year of competition in Division I basketball. After posting a 19-7 record last year, the Trojans entered their first season in Division I with the entire backcourt missing from the high scoring (83.6 points per game) 1992-1993 team. The Trojans depended more on their inside game this year. Troy State picked up five talented signees in 1993, and all made a substantial contribution in their first season.

Troy State University started the 1993-94 season with a new sponsor of the cheerleading squad. Samantha Cass joined the TSU staff as coach of tennis and held the title of cheerleading sponsor.

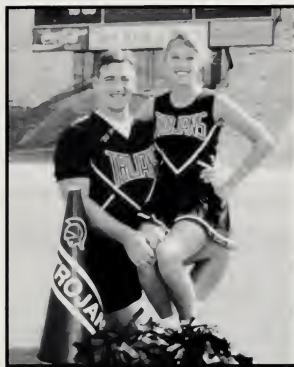

Cass was a graduate of the University of Oklahoma where she lettered in softball, volleyball and tennis. She also served as captain of the cheerleading squad her junior and senior years. She was a NCAA semi-finalist in the LoneStar State Conference Tennis Championships and NCAA district nine "Most Valuable Player" in volleyball. With her guidance and leadership, the TSU cheerleaders experienced a great year.

ACTION

Troy State University started the 1993 fall session off with a new softball head coach. Melanie Davis joined the Troy State staff and also served as women's volleyball and women's softball coach. Davis came to TSU from Beville State Community College where she served as head coach of women's basketball and softball. Her volleyball teams posted a cumulative record of 92-19 and won three consecutive Alabama Junior College Athletic Association State Championships. She was also named a three-time Alabama Junior College "Coach of the Year" and garnered the same honor in the Southeast Region in 1990-91 season. In her first fall season as softball coach, she posted a 26-13 record and the Lady Trojans won 40 games in the spring.

This is an exciting time for people to be "In a Troy State of Mind" because of the prospects for Troy State University's future. Opportunities in academics, the arts and athletics make the total collegiate experience available in a caring environment and provide the community and alumni the perks of a major university.

Since TSU's founding as Troy Normal School in 1887, people in Southeast Alabama have reaped many benefits. In its infancy, Troy Normal School was a college to train teachers for Southeastern Alabama's elementary and secondary schools. Today, after a century of growth, TSU is affecting more than just Southeast Alabama and in many other ways than it once did.

TSU is increasing course offerings to keep pace with the demands of tomorrow's job market. Environmental science and sports medicine are two of the cutting-edge programs that set TSU apart and prove our responsiveness to society's emerging needs. In addition,

TSU is expanding others and striving for higher standards of excellence in every aspect. I encourage our students, faculty and staff to share our enthusiasm and excitement to be "In a Troy State of Mind" about academics.

Services to the community and to business, as well as cultural programs in theater, music and the arts, make it easy for people in Southeast Alabama to be "In a Troy State of Mind." People in Troy were big proponents of founding this institution during the 1880s, and their continued support has developed a cooperative spirit between TSU and its constituents.

As TSU has grown, our service area has expanded. The TSU branch in Phenix City shows how we're adapting to changing educational needs by offering evening and weekend classes for nontraditional students. The steady growth at TSU-Phenix City, especially in the graduate program in education, shows the vital role we play in the Chattahoochee Valley. A new classroom building with satellite downlink technology connects the Phenix City branch to the rest of the system and will provide distance learning capabilities. Those technologies will open doors to partnerships with local business and industry to retrain their work force in high-tech classrooms.

The TSU System's independently-accredited Montgomery and Dothan campuses, plus University College, are other examples of how TSU programs and services reach beyond Troy and Pike County. As TSU grew in the 1950's, it saw opportunities to serve other areas. Today, the system has educational sites on approximately 40 military bases around the world through University College. We're no longer serving just Southeast Alabama, we're serving the global village. Our international appeal is even evident on the main campus throughout the presence of so many students from around the world.

Our inaugural year in Division I and I-AA athletics was successful beyond any expectations, and the excitement and potential associated with this challenging division are already changing the look and feel of TSU athletics. Let's all get "In a Troy State of Mind" and support TSU athletics as we build a tradition of Division I excellence.

I hope you will get caught up in all of the exciting things TSU has to offer. People have been so important to this university since its founding, and they will continue to be the reason we exist. TSU is committed to providing opportunities in education, leadership, service, athletics and culture as we move to the year 2000. Be part of it all and show your TSU spirit by being involved--by being "In a Troy State of Mind."

Camie,

We have gone through a lot together the past three years at TSU. You have been my shoulder to cry on. You have suffered through many class and yearbook deadlines with me. You have always been the one to tell me that things will get better! And you were right, they always did.

Thanks for being there to celebrate my triumphs and comfort my failures. No one could come close to taking your place in my heart and in my life. I love you.

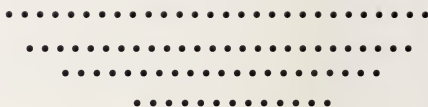

Diana

To Mel, Amanda, Carrie, Brandi, Cat, Roberto, Ping and Shores-How can I forget you guys? I love you too!

Dear Palladium Staff,

I just wanted to express my thanks to all of you for making these last few years the most memorable ones for me. I have found many things here at Troy State and in our little office in the Adams Center. I have found out what it means to be part of a team that always pulls together in times of need. I have found many best friends in all of you, and most importantly I have found what it means to work especially hard for the best things in life and reap the rewards of that hard work. Thank you Mr. McKerral for teaching me the value of publication work and your continous support. Also, a huge thank you to Angie and Paula for their patience and willingness to help. And to all the staff I love you all and will carry you always closest to my heart.

Love, Brooke

In a Troy State of Mind

Two years and 640 pages later...

As we close the cover on the 1993-1994 PALLADIUM, we are overwhelmed with a great feeling of accomplishment and yet a hint of sadness. The completion of this book closes a chapter in our lives. Who would have known four years ago that the quietest and shyest little girls on staff would be co-editors, not one year, but two? Somewhere along the line we not only learned responsibility and leadership skills, but we became the best of friends as well. As the years have gone by we have shared many memories: calling ourselves on the phone, driving a big pontoon boat, our party planner, road trips, family reunions, trees-on-wheels, Mrs. Schramm and Mrs. Mumar, breaking Vince's chair and so much more.

We could not end the book without thanking the administration, faculty, staff, friends and family. Your continued support means so much to the production of the PALLADIUM. We would like to thank Frank Myers, Carol Dukelow and the Delmar Staff. Thanks for our trip to the plant in North Carolina. It was great! Without Donald Norsworthy, Ed Moseley, and the entire photography staff we would be lost. We are thankful for your hard work and patience. You have made this book look beautiful. We would have many computer woes if it were not for Dr. Steven Padgett. Thanks for saving our computers and helping us with our problems. We want to thank Dean Merrill Bankester for believing in us to do the job one more time. Your encouragement means a lot to us. Thanks to our neighbors, Mrs. Patterson and Ms. Mary Lou. You were always so sweet to identify hundreds of photos and also to provide our staff with much needed information.

If it weren't for the dedication of the PALLADIUM staff, we would not be reading this right now. Thanks for keeping faith in us (and our point system too)! Marvin, Tonya, Diana, Penny, Brooke, Laurel, Meri, Susan, Leslie, Phillip and volunteers: be proud of yourself! You have done a terrific job. Who could forget our wonderful friendships and memorable moments? Marvin, you made our job fun. From your personal autograph photos on your wall to deep talks in the computer room, you always make us laugh! Thanks for being our "buddy" and don't litter in the office when we are gone. Tonya, we have been together for four years and we are going to miss you a lot. You were always so sweet and willing to help us in any way. Brooke and Laurel, you two make a great team. Meri, we knew you would do a great job with your section and we wish you luck with your new family. Susan and Leslie, you made great additions to our little staff. Phillip and Jeanine, thanks for helping the staff and being there for us. Penny and Diana, we leave you our office, late nights in the Adams Center, and many computer disks. Good luck next year as co-editors and remember that we believe in you.

To the boss, Mr. McKerral, a.k.a. Daddy Mac, we are thankful for your leadership and friendship. Don't forget our trip to the plant in North Carolina. Always remember Mr. Lux, Busy Blue, "Stop the Insanity," LOTS of fondue, burning lights, lead foot and dinosaur, getting us through our first airplane ride, Issac on "The Love Boat" (Hey!), souvenir magnets and our matching glow in the dark shirts. We will miss you greatly.

Last, but not least, a big thanks and hug for our personal cheering section: Paula's mom and dad, Ang's mom, Jodie, Calista, Debbie, Michelle, Karen and Chi Omega sisters. We are grateful for your continued love and support. Thanks for being there for us.

This has been an exciting year for Troy State University. For you, we have captured the year's memories and highlights. We hope you enjoy this edition of the PALLADIUM... "In a Troy State of Mind."
